A welcome from the Chair

We are delighted to offer sponsorship opportunities for the 2026 IPAAC Conference in Hyderabad, India. Last year's conference in Montreal was our biggest event yet, with over 200 delegates representing nearly 100 different aviation organisations, regulators or service providers from around the world. In the field of wellbeing and mental health of safety-critical aviation personnel, there is no other event which has so many experts in Peer Support gathered in one place to advance the field by sharing ideas and best practice. As an opportunity to showcase your brand, the IPAAC conference offers the widest and most influential audience.

This year we are being hosted by the Kanha Shanti Vanan Wellbeing Centre in Hyderabad, which promises to be a unique conference experience unlike any other. We will be walking the walk of Wellbeing as well as talking about it in an aviation context. We invite you to join us on this unique conference journey and maintain your brand visibility amongst the people who count in this fast-moving and growing area of Peer Support.

Dave Fielding
Chair IPAAC

Welcome to India

As Director of the Humane Aviation Foundation, I am delighted to welcome our sponsors and partners to IPAAC India. At a time when aviation is growing rapidly across India and Asia, bringing the International Peer Assistance Conference to the region offers a unique opportunity to place people at the centre of the conversation. Your support helps advance peer support, mental wellbeing, and human performance while connecting you with one of the most dynamic aviation markets in the world. Together, we can help build a stronger, safer, and more humane aviation industry.

Captain Geetanjali Khadria
Director Humane Aviation Foundation

From our Principal Partner, OdiliaClark India

At OdiliaClark India, we believe that the future of aviation depends not only on technical excellence, but also on the health, wellbeing, and professional development of the people who keep the industry moving. IPAAC provides a unique forum for operators, regulators, healthcare professionals, and industry leaders to share knowledge, challenge thinking, and advance best practice across the aviation community.

We are proud to support IPAAC 2026 as Principal Partner because meaningful progress happens when organisations come together to learn from one another. As aviation continues to grow across India and the wider region, forums such as IPAAC play an important role in fostering collaboration, improving safety, and supporting the long-term resilience of the industry.

Peter Whitten
Director Sales

Thank you to our 2025 sponsors

2025 was our biggest event ever as IPAAC, but we would be nothing without our industry partners and supporters. Those who sponsored did so for different reasons, be it to highlight the fantastic work they were doing in the field, or to just support an organisation who's work they believed in. However, they were all united by IPAAC's vision, of promoting peer support globally!

2026 Sponsorship Opportunities

The IPAAC 2026 offers a number of sponsorship opportunities to suit your requirements. From headline level packages right through to sponsorship in kind which we would be delighted to discuss with you, there are many ways to support this important work we are doing in IPAAC. We have a growing history of aviation organisations that have sponsored us for many years now, which is testimony to the value they feel IPAAC brings to the field and their wish to be associated with us. We look forward to continuing those relationships and to making new ones. Here is why last year's Platinums Sponsors supported us:

It has been a privilege to be associated with and support IPAAC over the past 8 yrs. It has grown into an increasingly relevant opportunity to exchange ideas, lessons learned and best practices from a diverse range of aviation peer support programmes from around the world - and meet those who are as similarly passionate about the topic as we are!

Aedrian Bekker
CEO, Centre for Aviation Psychology

IPAAC creates a unique environment where aviation operators, programme leads and industry stakeholders come together to address the practical challenges of pilot recovery and return-to-duty. For sponsors such as Zenamed, it offers a credible platform to engage with a highly specialised and influential audience.

National / Community Sponsorship

- ✓ One of the principle reasons for bringing IPAAC to India in 2026 is to stimulate and encourage the growth of Peer Support Programmes within the country. It is therefore of critical importance that as many Indian-based Peers and people involved in PSPs attend so that they may share the wealth of best practice and expertise.

We are therefore looking for a small number of Indian-based organisations to sponsor IPAAC specifically to subsidise the registration costs for resident Indian delegates. Each package would be for £2500 and would receive special mention in all conference promotional material as directly supporting Indian Peer Support in Aviation.
